Williamsburg

The restoration of Williamsburg, Virginia, the 18th-century capital of the British colony, was supported by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., from the 1920s to the 1950s. Through meticulous research, historians discovered that mouldings played a role in the social hierarchy of a home. They found a clear correlation between the degree of detail in the woodwork of a home and the wealth of the homeowner. It is from the restored homes and buildings of Colonial Williamsburg's Historic Area that Focal Point presents a unique line of WILLIAMSBURG mouldings.
